YOTO, Youth on Their Own, helps Tucson's homeless teens graduate. YOTO youth, through no fault of their own, lack a parent or long-term guardian physically involved in their lives, and a stable, permanent nighttime residence. This puts them at risk of dropping out of high school, continuing the cycle of poverty and reliance on social services, and increases the risk of substance abuse, incarceration, and mental health problems throughout adulthood. YOTO supports their high school graduation by providing financial assistance, basic human needs, and guidance.
